IV. Certificate of Deposit Accounts:

I. Information Applying to All Certificate Accounts

- Any withdrawal which reduces the account balance below the Minimum Balance Requirements shall be considered a withdrawal of the entire account balance and shall be subject to the penalties previously described.
- The penalties previously described will not be imposed for withdrawal of principal following the death or adjudication of incompetence of any account holder. The penalties previously described may not be imposed for the withdrawal of the principal to pay for nursing home expenses with evidence account holder is residing in a nursing home. Subject to minimum Federal Reserve requirements.
- Earnings credited to the account during any term may be withdrawn at any time during such term without penalty.
- If the account is renewed at the same earnings rate, earnings during the preceding term as well as the current term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during the Renewal Term.
- If the renewal term is different, earnings in the account at the end of the renewal term shall be deemed merged with the principal and only earnings for the Renewal Term may be withdrawn at any time without penalty during such term.
- If the entire account or any portion thereof is withdrawn not more than seven days after a maturity date, earnings shall be paid at the rate of earnings set forth to the date of withdrawal without reduction for any penalty.
- Deposits after account opening are not permitted.
- Check deposits will not start earning interest until the second business day after deposit.
- To open a 28-day, 91-day or six-month certificate, an initial minimum balance of $2,500 is required. To open a 1-10 year certificate, an initial minimum balance of $500 is required.

II. Earnings

A fixed-rate certificate account will receive earnings based on the rate of interest established on the opening day for the initial term of the certificate. Interest is credited quarterly on fiscal quarters for the 91 day and six-month certificates, and on calendar quarters for one to ten-year certificates. One to ten-year certificates credit any accrued interest accumulated from the last quarter to the date of maturity.

All certificate accounts earn daily compounded interest unless otherwise stated. The annual percentage yield assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

III. Renewal Terms

Certificate accounts are automatically renewed at the close of business on the initial maturity date or on the maturity date of any renewal term unless: (1) It is withdrawn within the seven (7) days grace period or (2) The bank elects not to renew the certificate upon maturity, in which case the account will be converted to a savings account and receive earnings at the rate then paid on a savings account.

The term of any renewal period is stipulated in the certificate. The rate of earnings for any renewal term shall be at the rate the bank is paying at that time on new accounts of this class.

IV, Select-A-Term

You may "Select-A-Term" with a maturity that meets your needs. Terms from 28 days to ten years are available. For certificates with non-standard terms, the rate of interest would be the published rate for the closest shorter term. All Certificate Programs are available for Individual Retirement Accounts.

V. Certificate of Deposit Penalties

- 28 Day Certificate of Deposit
No withdrawals permitted for the term of this account.
- 91 Day Certificate of Deposit
No withdrawals will be permitted on this account for the first 45 days. In the event of any withdrawals following the first 45 days, but before maturity, the Account holder shall forfeit an amount equal to all earnings paid, credited, and accrued on the amount of the withdrawal.
- 6 Month Certificate of Deposit
In the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to a maturity date, the Account holder shall forfeit an amount equal to or whichever is greater of (1) all earnings paid, credited, or accrued on the amount withdrawn, or (2) three months of interest, whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the simple interest rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.
- 1-3 Year Certificate of Deposit
In the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to a maturity date, the Account holder shall forfeit an amount equal to six months of interest, whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the simple interest rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.
- 4-10 Year Certificate of Deposit
In the event of any withdrawal of principal from this account prior to a maturity date, the Account holder shall forfeit an amount equal to 12 months of interest whether earned or not, on the amount withdrawn at the simple interest rate being paid on the account, regardless of the length of time the funds withdrawn have remained in the account.
